New reporting structure

As from 2010 Nederman is reporting according to the business areas Europe and International.

Europe comprises the Nordic region and the other European markets where Nederman operates its own sales companies.

International comprises national distributors and the company's own sales companies in the rest of the world.

The acquired business, Dantherm Filtration, will be reported as a separate operating segment in 2010.

Development per business area

Europe

The UK: The start of the year was weaker than expected. We are noting increased optimism and more activity regarding large projects.

Scandinavia

The Scandinavian market performed largely as expected. Development appears to be positive. We are noting increased activity in the machine processing segment in Sweden and Norway. Our efforts via the leading engineering companies in the Offshore segment in Norway have been positive. The Danish market has been affected by a temporary downturn in the international wind power market and a slowdown in domestic demand.

Other European countries are showing mixed development. In parts of Eastern Europe we are noting signs of recovery from a weak starting point while Central Europe shows continuous weak demand. Among other successes, we won a large prestigious order in the metalworking sector. Central Europe remains weak.

International

In China, where we established two years ago, we now have a smoothly functioning organization in place. We have our own sales offices in Shanghai and Beijing, and in 2010 we will open up in two further areas of industrial significance. A well-functioning distribution network comprising over 20 distributors is already in place.

Environmental and occupational safety issues are becoming more and more important for China's leaders and large sums of money will be invested in this area in coming years.

In India there is a high level of activity within Nederman's traditional market segments. A new organisation was established in 2009. Regional sales offices have opened in strategically important sites and the distribution network has expanded.

Brazil has not been directly hit by the effects of the global economic downturn to the same extent as other countries. We are noting strong demand for our products and services in all market segments.

North America: A new market organisation has been set up in the US with a sharper focus on Nederman's traditional market segments. The distribution network serving the welding industry and emergency vehicle stations is being expanded and developed continuously. A new product range for emergency vehicle stations has just been launched to enhance our flexibility and meet local technical specifications.

Acquisition

Nederman's acquisition of Dantherm Filtration

Dantherm Filtration's sales in 2009 amounted to around SEK 980 m. The company is one of the world's largest producers of large industrial filters, and has around 900 employees.

The purchase amount was DKK 280 m (around SEK 364 m) on a debt free basis (enterprise value). The acquisition will be concluded on 29 April 2010.

Nederman has secured long-term bank financing for the acquisition through a credit promise from Skandinaviska Enskilda Banken (publ). These securities mean that Investment AB Latour and Ernströmgruppen AB (in relation to their ownership share) undertake to secure over a two-year period any new share issue in Nederman for an amount up to SEK 200 m, in the event that a new share issue is performed. For these securities Nederman is paying SEK 2 m per quarter.

The acquired business will be integrated gradually and the integration should be completed by 2011. The acquired business will be consolidated in the Nederman group from the takeover date.

Nederman will report on the future effects for the group in the interim report per June 2010.
